5.2 Restriction Annex XV dossiers

a) Conformity check and key issues discussion

1) Per- and polyfluoroalkyl substances (PFASs) in firefighting foams

The Chair welcomed the Dossier Submitter's representatives from ECHA and the RAC rapporteurs. She informed the participants that the restriction dossier had been submitted in January 2022 by ECHA.

The Dossier Submitter's representatives then provided an introductory presentation on the restriction proposal. Members and regular and occasional stakeholder observers and their accompanying expert asked clarifying questions on the Dossier Submitter presentation.

The Chair informed the participants that RAC will conclude on the conformity of the Annex XV dossier at RAC-60 the following week.

The SEAC rapporteurs then presented the outcome of the conformity check and the recommendations to the Dossier Submitter.

The Committee agreed that the dossier conforms to the Annex XV requirements. In addition, the rapporteurs presented the key issues that they have identified for the evaluation of the restriction proposal. Members and regular and occasional stakeholder observers and their accompanying expert commented on the proposal. The Chair informed the Committee that the six-month consultation of interested parties on the restriction proposal will be launched on 23 March 2022.

b) Opinion development

1) Substances containing polycyclic aromatic hydrocarbons (PAHs) in clay targets for shooting – First draft opinion

The Chair welcomed the Dossier Submitter's representatives from ECHA and the RAC rapporteurs. She informed the participants that the restriction dossier had been submitted in October 2021.

The RAC rapporteurs informed the Committee that RAC had discussed its first draft opinion at the RAC working group on restrictions, as well as at RAC-60, and summarised the conclusions made.

The SEAC rapporteurs then presented the first draft opinion. Members commented on the scope (indicators, addition of 'use of'), alternatives and costs of the restriction. SEAC also discussed the benefits of the proposal.

The Chair concluded that there was general support by SEAC on the justification for the proposed scope. Regarding the costs assessment, SEAC supported the Dossier Submitter's approach noting the type of costs included in the analysis. For the benefits assessment, SEAC discussed the discount rate used and the Secretariat was requested to distribute a note to SEAC on "Flows, stocks and damages of persistent chemicals" and to table it for discussion at SEAC-55.

The (co-)rapporteurs were requested to prepare the second draft opinion by end of April 2022, taking into account the SEAC-54 discussions, and the comments received from the SEAC written commenting round.

2) 2,4-dinitrotoluene – Second draft opinion

This agenda item was chaired by the Deputy Chair. He welcomed the Dossier Submitter's representatives from ECHA and the RAC rapporteur. He informed the participants that the restriction dossier had been submitted in August 2021 under Art 69(2) of REACH and follows a simplified opinion development approach. This is the first discussion on the draft opinion at SEAC.

The RAC rapporteur informed the Committee about the open elements for the RAC opinion development. The dossier will skip the RAC discussions in March but will be tabled for discussion at the RAC restriction working group in May and adoption at the June plenary meeting, in line with the simplified opinion development approach.

The SEAC rapporteur then presented the second draft opinion. Members commented on the justification for the proposed scope and the justification for several potential derogations (2nd hand articles and uses), as well as on alternatives.

The Chair concluded that there was general support by SEAC on the rapporteur's evaluation, and any open issues will be finalised based on the third party consultation which will finish on 22 March 2022.

The rapporteur was requested to prepare the third draft opinion by end of April 2022, taking into account the SEAC-54 discussions, and the comments received during the consultation.

3) Lead and its compounds in outdoor shooting and fishing – Assessment of the comments from the third-party consultation & SEAC draft opinion for the fishing sector

The Chair welcomed the Dossier Submitter's representative from ECHA, the regular and occasional stakeholders and their accompanying experts, invited experts, as well as the members of the SEAC support group which was established to support the rapporteurs in the development of the opinion. She summarised the state of play of the opinion-making process.

The Secretariat informed the Committee that RAC had discussed its fourth draft opinion (focussed on uses in fishing) at the RAC working group on restrictions, as well as at RAC-60, and summarised the conclusions made. The SEAC rapporteurs then presented their fourth draft opinion (focussed on uses in fishing) to the Committee. Furthermore, SEAC took note of the presentation on the comments received in the third-party consultation.

Members commented on the scope, justifications for derogation requests, and the assessment of the costs of the proposed restriction for uses for sports shooting, hunting and fishing. SEAC also had discussions on the benefits, practicality and proportionality of the proposed restriction.

The regular stakeholder observers, together with their experts, commented on sport shooting (RMMs at shooting ranges), and the impacts of the proposed restriction on hunting and fishing. The occasional stakeholder observers commented on the scope for fishing and for hunting and sport shooting. The invited expert commented on the justification for a derogation for 'split shot' fishing weights.

The Chair concluded that there was full support and agreement by SEAC on the Rapporteurs' evaluation of the proposed restriction with respect to uses in fishing, and that this section of the draft opinion would not be discussed again in the next plenary. With regards to uses for sport shooting and hunting, the conclusions will be finalised by the rapporteurs in a systematic way in the next version of the opinion. The Chair reminded the stakeholder observers that any new studies or data should be submitted via the consultation on the SEAC draft opinion.

The (co-)rapporteurs were requested to prepare the fifth draft opinion by the end of April 2022, taking into account the SEAC-54 discussions, and the comments received during the consultation on the Annex XV report. The Chair reminded all participants that the SEAC opinion development would be extended until December 2022.

4) 1,6,7,8,9,14,15,16,17,17,18,18-dodecachloropentacyclo- [12.2.1.1^{6,9}.0^{2,13}.0^{5,10}]octadeca-7,15-diene (Dechlorane Plus) – Third draft opinion

The Chair welcomed the Dossier Submitter's representatives from Norway, the RAC (co)rapporteurs and the occasional stakeholders. She summarised the state of play of the opinion-making process.

The Secretariat informed the Committee that RAC had discussed their opinion at the RAC-60 Restriction Working Group and was scheduled to adopt the final RAC opinion at RAC-60 in March 2022. The RAC rapporteur reported from the RAC discussions at the RAC-60 Restriction Working Group. The SEAC rapporteurs then presented the fourth draft opinion to the Committee.

The members discussed the evaluation of proportionality and agreed on changes to the draft opinion proposed by the Rapporteurs at the meeting. The Commission representative also commented on the proportionality assessment.

No interventions were made by regular or occasional stakeholders.

The Committee agreed on its draft opinion by consensus (with editorials as agreed at SEAC-54). The rapporteurs were requested, together with the Secretariat, to do the final editing of the SEAC draft opinion and to ensure that the supporting documentation (BD and RCOM) is in line with the agreed SEAC draft opinion in order to launch the 60-day consultation on the SEAC draft opinion on 16 March 2022.
